

EPISCOPAL COMMUNICATORS

Request for Scholarship

Episcopal Communicators is committed to connection, within and beyond the church. We believe communication is a vital component to a healthy church at all levels, from the congregation to the diocese to the global church. One of the most important ways we accomplish our goals is to host an annual conference.

We strive to make the conference accessible to as many participants as possible. To that end, generous donors have provided money for three scholarship funds: the Founders Fund (for first-time attendees), the Doris Hall Scholarship Fund and the International Scholarship Fund.

Please note: scholarships are available only to members of Episcopal Communicators. An annual membership costs $75. Scholarship funds are used to defray the conference fee; they are not used to cover travel expenses.

The board of Episcopal Communicators encourages applicants to ask their employers to support their participation by paying travel expenses (transportation and lodging) and a portion of the conference fee. Your attendance is valuable not only for you, but for your diocese, parish or organization. If your employer provides professional development or continuing education for clergy, it is appropriate that they provide similar support for you.

The deadline for scholarship applications for the April 2019 conference is Friday, Jan. 11, 2019. This will provide time for you to register before the early-bird conference registration deadline of Jan. 25.

Information about the conference:

- Tuesday, April 30 – Friday, May 3, 2019, in Denver, Colo.
- We begin Tuesday afternoon and conclude Thursday night after the conference banquet. Friday is a travel day.
- There is an optional pre-conference intensive on Tuesday, April 30 that costs an additional $125. Several half-day workshops are offered, and you can select two of them.
- Conference fee (member rate with early bird discount): $375
- Housing: You will book your own room. The conference hotel is the Hotel Curtis. The Episcopal Communicators website includes a link for booking rooms at the conference rate: <https://episcopal-communicators.wildapricot.org/page-1466389>

Please return your completed form to board president Melodie Woerman, mwoerman@episcopal-ks.org, by Jan. 11. All information is kept confidential.
